Q3 - What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?

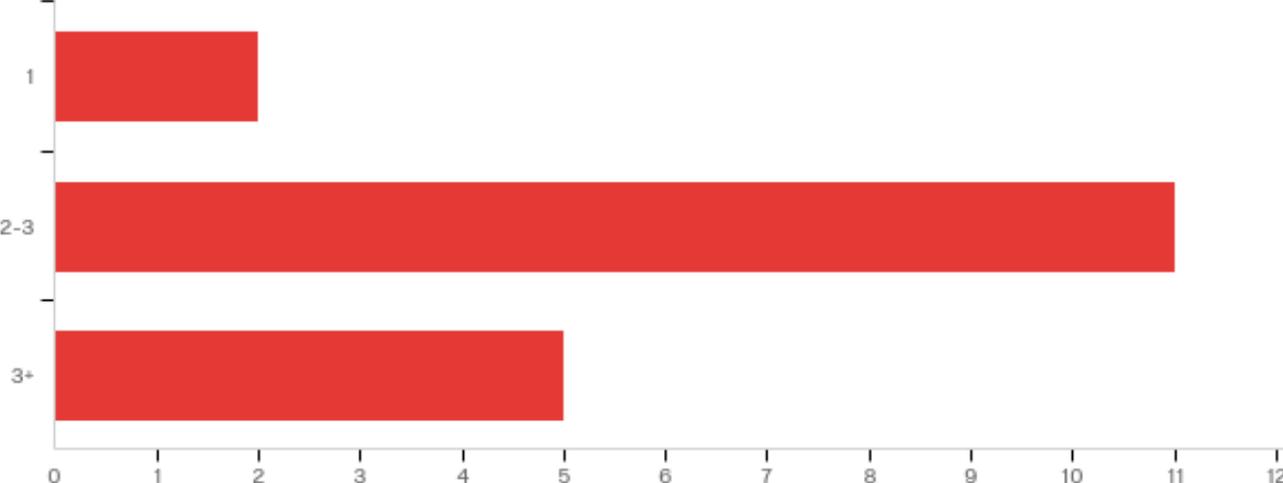

What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?
time and scheduling
I am not familiar with the program. Need to learn more about it before deciding money
Funding
We have sent librarians in lead positions to the Harvard Leadership Institute for Academic Librarians unplanned/unexpected staffing shortage
Scheduling conflicts
The only thing that would keep us from sending at least one of our librarians/staff are the dates. Otherwise, it sounds great.
If it were limited to "librarians" versus professionals w/MLS's in lead roles
Major earthquake

Q6 - What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?

What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?
Need to learn more about the training before deciding Nothing
money and schedule
If they didn't feel it was necessary
Funding
competing work responsibilities. This is a lower priority area for us, so depends on interest and availability of 2 instruction librarians.
Scheduling conflicts
Just the dates! This sounds like a great training.
If we deemed it too philosophical/twee
Their willingness to attend. Also, we hosted the roadshow 4 years ago (just before I got there).

	Total	100%	13

Q9 - What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?

What would keep you from sending anybody from your library to the training?
I already have a credit for 1 librarian who got sick just before she began Immersion last year. Also, I have 6 new TT librarians and it is a challenge to provide enough funding for other prof. dev. activities.
money
Funding or lack of interest
Two of our library faculty have participated in previous ACRL Immersion sessions
I have two instruction librarians on staff and one has already attended Immersion. The other is on a reduced schedule 10/12, so depends on other responsibilities/priorities.
Budget outlook
It would just depend on interest. I've personally attended both the Teaching with Technology and Program Track. It has been a couple of years, but I didn't think the Program Track was that helpful. Teaching with Technology was fantastic, but it is more involved and takes several weeks.
Need to see revamped curriculum. Many of my librarians have been to immersion and would need an advanced track.

Q11 - What other training do you think COLD should consider?

What other training do you think COLD should consider?
data management and digital humanities in depth information about 1st gen univ or college students especially Hispanic
Assessment of information literacy programs and other ways libraries contribute to student success
Science Boot Camp for Librarians
Project Management; and Library Publishing
Constant demand for learning Excel.
ArchiveSpace please
Statistics and analysis
Managing and exploring the evolving role of student employees

Q10 - If you were only able to choose one program, which one would it be?

If you were only able to choose one program, which one would it be?

That is difficult to say; I think that both are very important. Probably, the Schol Comm ACRL workshop would win out by a very slim margin.

data management

the second one

ACRL Immersion

Scholarly communication

DeEtta Jones Institute

Scholarly Communications and Library Publishing as Instructional Design Librarianship

D'Etta Jones

ACRL Scholarly Communication

Arrgh! Don't make me decide! But probably management, because that's so hard to find elsewhere.
