Hi Kate,

The first two look good to me. I think I finally see number 1 in the known gaps page (pasted below). There was also a list of databases by CSU libraries in case folks had questions but that may be outdated by now. Number 3 is still a question for me since I don't think checking ""Do not show as Full Text available in CDI even if active in Alma" box would work for institutions defaulting to expanded view. I asked Christine Stohn via the alma-l listserv but who knows if we will get a response. Either way I think sending this out would be helpful for libraries.

Alma	Collection Management	Add a CDI-only full text activation option to the following areas to allow collections to suppress the collection's bibliographic record and still publish it to CDI: • Collection list (collection action list) • Electronic collection editor	August Release Update (collection action list and for groups in the electronic collection editor) September release (electronic collection editor)

Thanks,
Dolly
